mattress factory addition
the fold
epic metal competition
perforated patterning
Utilizing a secondary fabrication process, CNC plasma cutting, the properties of the steel deck are altered. The decking is made permeable allowing it to modulate views of the landscape and the barge exhibit inside. In the process of becoming-wood the steel skin corrodes with light. It takes on the material properties of a 19th century wooden barge. The viewing platforms and Lewis and Clark barge are suspended within the illuminated volume for display.
frick park memorial
the burnt rib
marc fornes
theverymany.net
aloblums