

In Pursuit Of Peace In The Middle East

The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict

Diana Buttu, PLO peace negotiation advisor, arrives from occupied Ramallah to warn of regional disaster as US pursues Iraq war.

Ms. Buttu is on a speaking tour, calling for justice for Palestine and making the case "Why a fair settlement is essential to peace throughout the Middle East."

Lecture and Discussion

Wednesday, November 13, 7:00 PM

Doherty Hall, Room 2210,
Carnegie Mellon University

Diana Buttu is a legal advisor to the negotiations support unit of the Palestine Liberation Organization. Since October 2000 she has been an influential part of the Palestinian team in negotiations with Israel. She is touring the US to speak from her first hand experience of the struggle of Palestinians for freedom and statehood.

Ms. Buttu lives in Ramallah. She is editor of the Palestine Yearbook of International Law and a member of the Ontario Bar. She previously served as legal counsel to the Canadian Department of Justice in Ottawa. She has a B.A. and an LL. M from Stanford University; a J.D. from Queen's University in Ontario, and a J.S.M from Stanford University.

Admission is free.

Sponsored by: CMU Activities Board Political Speakers Committee
Progressive Student Alliance

For more information contact: ccpj2@hotmail.com, or call: 412-614-0264