A "flipped Classroom“ requires the same workload, yet puts the individual preparation before class.