

Biography

Dr. Eui Man Jeong received the B.S. (2002) and M.S. (2004) degrees from Chung-Ang University College of Pharmacy. He obtained his Ph.D. degree (2010) from Seoul National University College of Medicine. He had been worked at Seoul National University Medical Research Center as a postdoctoral research fellow since 2010. He is currently a BK Assistant Professor at Brain Korea 21 Plus Biomedical Science Project in Seoul National University. His research interests include development of assay methods of glutathione redox system using glutathione sensors in live cells and its application for development of cell therapy.