

PITTSBURGH
ARCHITECTURE
LECTURES
SPRING 2002

It's Not Modern...
Just Cheap

THURSDAY
MARCH 21, 2002
7.00 PM

DOHERTY HALL, 2315
CARNEGIE MELLON UNIVERSITY

WILVAN
VAN CAMPEN
Architect, New York City

Carnegie Mellon
SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE
CARNEGIE MUSEUM OF ART
The Heinz Architectural Center

AIA Pittsburgh

Through a series of built and unbuilt projects, this lecture will explore the unique challenges of achieving architectural quality within limited budgets. It will focus not only on how these constraints necessitate the use of inexpensive materials and tectonic systems--but also encourage the rethinking of conventional project management toward alternative strategies of professional practice.