Milestone-4

March 20 2020

Major Changes

There has been a significant change in plans, and we have decided to shift the original plan for this milestone to the summer. I am currently implementing a combined classifier-separation model, that first identifies the sources and then sets trainable weights for different models. The result will be a weighted combination.

Accomplishments

I have implemented the complete model, working on optimizations.

Meeting Milestone

This was not originally a part of the Milestones, and the direction of research has slightly changed.
